If picking and choosing were possible: The ideal post-Brexit partnership

Wednesday 24 January 2018, ARENA Centre for European Studies, University of Oslo

Which policy areas should be excluded and included in the new association agreement? In its white paper on withdrawing from the EU, the UK government has stated that it will pursue a new strategic partnership with the EU, including an ambitious and comprehensive Free Trade Agreement and a new customs agreement. It will aim for the freest possible trade in goods and services between the UK and the EU and may take on board elements of current Single Market arrangements. What are the possible lessons for the UK from the EEA countries?

10.00 - 11.30 The Brexit debate: What role for the EEA?

Julie Smith University of Cambridge/ House of Lords
Christopher Lord ARENA Centre for European Studies, University of Oslo
Øivind Bratberg British Politics Society/ Department of Political Science, University of Oslo

11.30 - 14.00 Lessons from the EEA countries

Norway
Monica Stensland Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Norway

Iceland
Jóhanna Jónsdóttir Institute of International Affairs, Centre for Small States Studies, University of Iceland
Pia Hansson

Liechtenstein
Christian Frommelt Liechtenstein Institute
Hans Petter Graver Department of Private Law, University of Oslo
Christoph Hillion Norwegian Institute of International Affairs, NUPI
John Erik Fossum ARENA Centre for European Studies, University of Oslo